DETAILED ACTION

Initially, it is noted that claim 16 reciting "a semiconductor device as recited in claim 9" wherein claim 9 corresponds to a process claim. While claim 16 is provisionally grouped in group I below, the claim as written is erroneous as a dependent product claim cannot depend from a process claim. To the extent that applicant intends claim 9 to be a process claim, claim 16 needs to be corrected to "a method for making a semiconductor device . . . " and will be grouped with process claims 9-15 and 17-20 upon applicant's correction; compare, e.g., claims 10-15 as to the correct dependency. To the extent claim 16 is intended to be a product claim, it must be corrected to depend from a product claim or to be an independent claim.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-8, 16, and 21-24, drawn to a semiconductor device, classified in class 257, subclass 751.
- II. Claims 9-15 and 17-20, drawn to a process of making a semiconductor device, classified in class 438, subclass 627.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed in claims 1-8 can be made by another and materially different process wherein the interconnect structure is formed and patterned prior to forming the dielectric; the product as claimed in claims 21-24 can be made without the dielectric or with a subsequently formed dielectric.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Should applicant elect the group I invention, the following is applicable

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

1. The claimed species of claims 1-8 and 16 regarding a semiconductor device comprising a substrate, a dielectric layer formed over the substrate, a damascene interconnect structure, a tapered barrier.
2. The claimed species of claims 21-24 regarding a system with a damascene interconnect structure comprising a microprocessor including a damascene interconnect structure within the damascene, a bus coupled to the microprocessor, a network interface coupled to the bus.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
